

Richmond Reflections

Vol. 45 No. 3 The Richmond Historical Society Newsletter Fall 2019

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Members and Friends of RHS,

It is an honor to address you as President of the Society. I look forward to continuing its work in preserving and promoting the history of Richmond, along with the valued assistance of the Board of Directors and members like YOU!

There are several exciting events and activities in the works. On September 22nd we will be hosting "Driftways into Their Pasts", a reception and exhibit honoring the lives of Patty Millar and Betty Mowchan, two indefatigable members of the Society who are sorely missed. See the program below for complete details.

On November 3rd, we will be co-hosting a presentation with the Hopkinton Historical Association on Prudence Crandall. Joan DiMartino, Curator of the Prudence Crandall Museum, will be the guest speaker. Lauri Arruda, President of HHA, will also be speaking and displaying Prudence's baby cradle. More information to come.

Of great importance is the revision of the RHS Constitution and Bylaws. The Constitution was last amended in 1992, and it was time to review and revise as needed to bring it up to date. A special committee consisting of Richard Wolke, David Johnson, Merrill Moone, and myself put much time and thought into the revision. The draft is in the newsletter for your review. If you have any comments or questions about the revision, please email us at rihiso@gmail.com . A special meeting will be held at the Clark Library on October 24 at 7:00 PM so the membership can vote on the proposed Constitution. Please make every effort to attend.

Thanking you for your support of RHS.

Kristen Chambers

Historic Cemetery Committee

The RHS Historic Cemetery Committee has responded to a couple of requests from property owners about their historic cemeteries. The usual inquiries are concerning the do's and don'ts of cemetery cleaning, plus asking whose job it is to clean their cemeteries.

I would like to invite all interested folks to join me in an organizational meeting of the RHS Historic Cemetery Committee. The meeting will be held on Thursday, December 5, 2019 at 5:30pm at the Clark Memorial Library. Many volunteers are needed to help locate, preserve, and maintain our nearly 100 neglected cemeteries.

Some of the tasks we will be discussing are:

- Finding lost cemeteries
- Checking tax maps for accurate cemetery locations
- Cleaning all our cemeteries
- Photography
- Recruiting more volunteers
- Plans for RI Historical Cemetery Preservation and Awareness Day
- Make corrections to state database
- Answer general inquiries from the public
- Repair damaged headstones
- Town hall research of our cemeteries that have perpetual care funds

Thank you!

Dory Wagner

Why, oh why, Wyoming?

I would like to offer two possible explanations as to why the village of Wyoming is so named. Initially, it was called Brand's Iron Works. Then, for a short time Alton. Our seminal history, "Driftways into the Past", published in 1977 is of no help, reporting, "Alton was later changed to Wyoming on December 11, 1855. Wyoming is an Indian name meaning 'Meeting of the Plains', but is not known why this name was chosen." Actually, Wyoming is a Munsee (Delaware Indian) word meaning, 'at the big river flat'.

In 2010 I received a phone call from the President of the Luzerne Historical Society in Pennsylvania. He was curious to know why the town of Richmond had a village named Wyoming. I told him I had no idea, but that I would look into the question. He then suggested the following possibility: that residents of Brand's Iron Works had migrated to the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania in search of better farming land.

It is said that they were often considered intruders since the land at that time was claimed by both Pennsylvania and Connecticut. The tension led to some emigrants returning to Richmond to name our village Wyoming. This is certainly a possibility, as evidenced by living residents today in Hopkinton that will confirm that their ancestors did indeed move to the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania.

More likely is the influence in 1809 of a famous lyric ballad of interminable length (I count 93 stanzas!) that was published by the Scottish poet Thomas Campbell (1777-1844) entitled, 'Gertrude of Wyoming'. It records the Wyoming Massacre of 1788 in which many of the local Indians were murdered, and also the beauty of the Wyoming Valley in Pennsylvania near the Susquehanna River.

The poem was of great popularity and it is said that a number of villages, and even the State of Wyoming, found their names in its writing. While this reference is a possibility, its publication date to the naming of Richmond's Wyoming is 46 years. One might wonder about the impact of the poem at this late date.

2019 Annual Meeting Highlights

The Annual Meeting of the Richmond Historical Society was held on June 20, 2019 at the Clark Memorial Library.

New officers were elected:

Kristen Chambers, President

Richard Wolke, Vice President

Carolyn Richard, Treasurer

Johanna Wolke, Secretary

Members at Large: Virginia Williams, Dory Wagner, David Johnson

Laura Orabone volunteered to be Assistant Treasurer.

Bruce and Chamoni Simone will be reconstructing the RHS website

<https://www.richmondrihistoricalsociety.org/>

Merrill Moone joined the Archive Committee.

The reprinting of Driftways was rejected due to expense and lack of time and personnel.

The 2019 Legislative Grant will be used primarily for upkeep and development of the Bell School and the Old Town Clerk's Office.

A proposal was accepted to form a committee to update the RHS Constitution.

Proposals were accepted to pay speaker honorariums of $50, and to pay $25 for the use of buildings where programs are held.

New Website Home

RHS has a new home at <https://www.richmondrihistoricalsociety.org/>. It is being created and maintained with a new web-development platform. Its benefit is that the new site is member maintained. Changes can be made in a more timely manner, with more data and content flexibility. The new site has links to our home; one can learn about RHS, join us, learn what's new, learn about events, and how to contact us. Additionally, there are links for www.richmondri.com, and www.clarklib.org. The new site is ready to visit! Questions, comments, and/or content contributions ? Contact us at rihiso@gmail.com
